

Open local surface charts: support allocation without global closure

Existing local heightfield idea; new support count, scale, anchors and shared chart decoder. Benefits remain untested.

